OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. Global fixed income markets declined in September. Most global central banks maintained their hawkish monetary policies as they continue to bring inflation back to target. The Federal Reserve kept rates unchanged at their September meeting, but Fed Chair Jerome Powell reiterated their commitment to combatting inflation and signaled that the central bank would remain data dependent. The FOMC (Federal Open Market Committee) members also projected that rate cuts will be pushed back, with median end-2024 and end-2025 target rate projections being forecasted 50 bps higher compared to June projections. The US Treasury yield curve shifted upward as the 2-year, 10-year and 30-year yields rose by 18, 46, and 49 basis points, ending the month at 5.05%, 4.57% and 4.70%. Riskier fixed income assets outperformed comparable government bonds as economic data continued to be resilient. Corporate credit spreads were mixed across sectors as spreads of US investment-grade and US high-yield credit rose by 3.5 and 24.7 basis points, respectively, while spreads of emerging-market fixed income securities were flat, declining by 0.6 basis points.

Fund Performance. The fund returned -1.69%, outperforming the benchmark by 123 basis points. Underweight in government bonds and below-benchmark duration positioning helped performance.

Fund Strategy. We expect major structural trends such as the increasing market share of electric vehicles sold, increased recycled content in clothing and packaging, and record installations of wind turbines and solar panels to continue. The ongoing Russia-Ukraine war has resulted in the world, particularly Europe, determined to reduce their reliance on traditional sources of energy such as oil and gas, requiring large investments in renewable energy in the coming years. In addition, we continue to see support for climate solutions and green technologies through government policies such as the Inflation Reduction Act signed by US President Joe Biden. We believe that strong ESG companies are likely to generate positive financial performance over time as investing in sustainability can deliver higher growth and returns through innovation, higher operational efficiency and better risk management.
