Risk Factors and Investment Considerations

The NAV of the Fund may fluctuate due to changes in the market values of the Fund’s investments. Such changes in market value may be attributable to various factors such as:

A. Factors External to the Fund, listed in the order of importance:

- 1) Market Risk - the risk that movement in the financial markets will adversely affect the value of investments of the Fund. To properly manage market risk, various risk measurement methodologies are utilized to quantify the potential change in portfolio value resulting from changes in security prices. Measures of risk-adjusted performance are also utilized. Market risk is controlled through the establishment of investment limits and by managing the fund according to investment guidelines and parameters that are consistent with its return objective and risk profile.
- 2) Interest Rate Risk - the risk that the value of the portfolio will decline as interest rates rise. Bond prices are inversely related to interest rates (i.e. as interest rates increase, bond prices decrease). Interest rate risk is measured using duration and controlled through duration limits. To mitigate this risk, the Fund Manager closely monitors movements in interest rates.
- 3) Liquidity Risk - the risk that the investments of the Fund cannot be sold or converted into cash within a reasonable time or in instances where sale or conversion is possible but not at a fair price. A liquidity contingency plan, which provides a framework for addressing liquidity crisis situations, is in place.
- 4) Credit Risk - the risk that the bond issuer may not be able to pay its debt when interest payments and maturity falls due. Credit risk is minimized through diversification. Investment and counterparty limits are also established and monitored regularly. All investment outlets and counterparties go through accreditation prior to the execution of investment transactions.

5) Inflation Risk - the risk that the return of your investments will not keep in pace with the increase in consumer prices. To mitigate inflation risk, the Fund Manager closely monitors inflation.

6) Reinvestment Risk - the risk associated with the possibility of having lower return when maturing securities or the interest earnings of funds are re-invested. To mitigate reinvestment risk, the Fund Manager closely monitors interest rate trends so as to re-invest at higher interest rates.

7) Foreign Exchange Risk - this is the possibility for an investor to experience losses from a decline in fund value when the market value of fixed income securities, settled in any other currency, held by the fund are converted/translated to Philippine Peso. To mitigate foreign exchange risk, the fund manager closely monitors the movements in the spot market.

B. Risks Inherent to the Fund, listed in the order of importance:

1) Investors in an open-end fund are exposed to the risk of dilution, since other investors are allowed to purchase shares and/or redeem their entire holdings any time. Given this inherent risk, the Fund Manager tries to lessen the frequency of withdrawals by imposing an early redemption fee for investors who redeem from the Fund during the stipulated minimum holding period. By doing this, investors are discouraged to redeem during the minimum holding period, thereby allowing the Fund Manager to maximize the investments during the said period.

2) Unlike closed-end funds, the investment potential and capability of the Fund is limited by liquidity constraints as the Fund Manager should always ensure that there are sufficient liquid assets to service redemptions at any given time.

3) Unlike bank accounts, investment companies / mutual funds are neither insured with the PDIC nor any other agency of the government, nor guaranteed by the Fund Manager. Before investing in the Fund, investors are expected to understand that the Fund is not a bank deposit product and any income, or loss, shall be for the account of the investor. Investors are advised to read the Prospectus of the Fund, which may be obtained from authorized distributors, before deciding to invest. The Fund is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

4) Mutual funds are subject to "manager risk," which is the potential for a fund to fail to achieve its objectives due to investment decisions by the Fund Manager, caused by the Fund Manager's ability, or failure, to "read the market" accurately. To mitigate this risk, the Fund Manager employs a thorough investment process, considering macroeconomic factors and integrating them in asset allocation models to optimize the return of the portfolio. The Fund Manager likewise keeps abreast of current market conditions through various trainings and seminars on fund management techniques as well as close coordination with various counterparties and regulators.

2. Distribution methods of the products or services

The Fund is being distributed by the Principal Distributor through its SEC Certified Investment Solicitors (CISols) and its appointed sub-distributors. Effective March 2025, BPI Wealth assumed the function of Principal Distributor previously held by BPI Investments Inc. (BII).

3. Competition

The Fund operates within the mutual fund industry, a type of collective investment scheme and a sub-sector of the financial services industry. The mutual fund industry offers a broad range of products, covering various asset classes and feeder fund structures. Most providers utilize private networks alongside digital and mobile strategies for distribution. With retail investors as the dominant market segment, investor education remains crucial, alongside key industry trends such as digitalization, evolving investor demographics, regulatory reforms, and a shifting competitive landscape, all of which are influencing how mutual funds operate and attract investors.²

The principal method of competition in this industry is the fund performance or fund return measured based on the NAVPS's appreciation over time. The Fund will rely on the active management of its appointed Fund Manager to outperform the Fund's competition while ensuring that the active risk (i.e. degree of deviation from the index or benchmark) taken by the Fund remains appropriate given the Fund's investment objective and policy.

The Fund's primary competitors are peer collective investment schemes such as other mutual funds and unit investment trust funds available in the Philippines.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OR PLAN OF OPERATIONSAs of March 31, 2026

The Philippine economy grew by 3.0% YoY in 4Q25, marking a sharp slowdown in momentum as the ongoing corruption controversy surrounding the government's flood control projects weighed heavily on consumer and business confidence. Despite manageable inflation and the usual holiday uptick in spending, household consumption expanded at its slowest pace since 2010 (excluding the pandemic). Investment activity also weakened, with gross capital formation contracting due to a steep drop in public construction, soft durable equipment spending, and sharper inventory drawdowns from firms. Overall, the restrained spending and investment activity highlighted a prevailing atmosphere of caution among consumers and businesses. The 4Q25 print brought the FY2025 GDP growth to 4.4%, lower than the 5.7% growth in FY2024 and well below the government's 5.5% to 6.5% growth target for the year.

In March, Philippine headline inflation surged to 4.1% YoY (Feb.: +2.4%). This was beyond the market's consensus forecast of 3.8% and marked the highest reading since July 2024, when inflation hit 4.4%. The hotter print was largely driven by faster transport inflation, reflecting the sharp increase in diesel and gasoline prices, rice inflation returning to positive territory, and higher housing and utility costs. The latest reading brought the year-to-date (YTD) average inflation to 2.8%, still within the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas' (BSP) 2-4% target range.

Domestic fixed income investments reversed course in March, with the Local Currency Bond Index delivering a YTD decline of -0.41%. An early year rally was fueled by expectations of BSP rate cuts and National Treasurer Almanza's remarks regarding a potential $3 billion inflow from the possible JPMorgan index inclusion. However, this optimism was ultimately overshadowed by rising geopolitical risks. Given the Philippines' heavy reliance on oil imports, the heightened US-Israel and Iran tensions reignited inflationary concerns. Consequently, yields jumped by an average of 56 bps during the quarter as markets weighed the surge in global oil prices, with Brent crude breaching the $100 per barrel level. In an off-cycle meeting, the BSP maintained its policy rate at 4.25% but sharply revised its 2026 inflation forecast from 3.6% to 5.1% to reflect higher energy prices.

Overall, the fund looks to maximize its accrual yield while taking advantage of the ongoing market volatility for potential attractive entry points.

Net Asset Value Per Share (“NAVPS”) for the 1st Quarter of 2026:

QUARTER	DATE	NAVPS
1st	2-Jan-26	419.88	LOW
	1-Mar-26	422.91	HIGH

AS OF DECEMBER 31, 2025

Domestic fixed income investments delivered strong results in 2025, with the Local Currency Bond Index gaining 5.86%. Returns were supported by attractive interest income from higher bond yields, alongside gains from rising bond prices. Bond yields declined during the year, particularly for bonds with maturities of less than 10 years, which helped lift market performance. This was largely driven by interest rate cuts from the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP), which lowered the policy rate from 5.75% to 4.50%.

The BSP’s move was supported by easing inflation and slower economic activity. Philippine inflation slowed from 3.2% in 2024 to 1.7% in 2025, falling below the BSP’s target range of 2–4%. Lower rice prices, which accounts for about 9% of household spending, played a significant role in keeping inflation subdued. At the same time, economic growth softened, with the Philippine economy expanding by 4.4% in 2025, compared with 5.7% the previous year. Growth weakened in the second half of the year as public construction activity declined due to corruption-related issues, which also dampened consumer and business confidence.

Looking ahead to 2026, we remain positive on domestic fixed income investments. While gains from rising bond prices may be more limited, bond yields remain above historical averages and are expected to continue providing steady income. This can help cushion portfolios against short term market volatility. Although economic conditions may remain soft, potentially allowing for further interest rate cuts, investors should remain mindful of risks such as a possible pickup in inflation, peso volatility, and ongoing geopolitical uncertainties.

For the year, the ALFM Peso gave a net return on investment of 4.22% while its benchmark which was at 4.66%. With this, the fund ended the year with a NAVPS at PHP 419.99.

The Fund continues to maintain portfolio quality through active duration management, yield curve positioning, and yield-enhancing credit investments. As of year-end 2025, portfolio duration of the fund stood at 3.79.

For 2026, expect ALFM Peso’s priority to give investors a consistent, stable return that is true to its investment objective. The fund manager maintains an optimistic outlook on fixed income investments, particularly due to attractive level of bond yields compared to historical averages. These yields are expected to continue providing ample accrual returns to investors, serving as buffers against potential marked-to-market volatility amid short-term risks. Uncertainties stemming from geopolitical tensions and global trade policies could hinder progress in inflation control and policy easing, which are supportive to fixed income investment returns. Long-term investors will get the full reward of investing and shareholders should be prepared to withstand short-term volatility.

AS OF DECEMBER 31, 2024

Domestic fixed income investments ended 2024 on a positive note, with the Local Currency Bond Index returning 4.32%. This performance was driven by high accrual returns amid elevated bond yields. For the most part of the year, returns were boosted by declining inflation and policy rates. The Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) initiated policy easing in 2024, reducing the policy rate by a total of 75 basis points to 5.75%. The central bank's decision was backed by more anchored inflation expectations compared to 2023. On average, Philippine inflation decelerated to 3.2%, a significant improvement from 6.0% in 2023. Additionally, the BSP's announcement of a 250-basis point cut on the reserve requirement ratio (RRR) for universal and commercial banks provided further bolstered the asset class performance.

Towards the end of the year, gains in fixed income investments were tempered as local inflation began to re-accelerate. Additionally, signals from both the BSP and the US Federal Reserve indicated a more gradual approach to policy easing in 2025. Escalating geopolitical risks and concerns over the potential inflationary impact of US President Trump's proposed policies also led investors to temper their rate cut expectations.

As of December 2024, ALFM Peso Bond Fund's net asset value (NAV) per share stood at Php403.07, up 3.21% compared to the end-December 2023 level of Php390.57. The increase in NAV per share can be attributed to the rise in market value of investments held by the Fund.

Total assets of the Fund amounted to Php35.67 billion as of end-2024, a decrease of 3.20% compared to the Php36.86 billion as of end-2023. Net assets amounted to Php34.82 billion, from Php36.62 billion in 2023.

Income totaled Php1.51 billion in 2024, lower than the Php1.57 billion in 2023. Income on financial assets at fair value through profit or loss amounted to Php595.58 million in 2024 from Php522.96 million in 2023. Total expenses amounted to Php469.29 million in 2024, compared to Php422.89 million the previous year. Management fees of Php439.64 million and Taxes and Licenses of Php5.58 million made up most of the expenses in 2024. These resulted to a net income of Php1.24 billion in 2024 compared to the Php1.28 billion in 2023.

The Fund continues to maintain portfolio quality through active duration management, yield curve positioning, and yield-enhancing credit investments. As of year-end 2024, portfolio duration of the fund stood at 3.83.

For 2025, expect ALFM Peso's priority to give investors a consistent, stable return that is true to its investment objective.
