OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. The BPI Money Market Index returned 0.16% in January as money market benchmark yields fell 7 basis points (bps) on average, with the greatest yield declines seen in the 12- and 6-month benchmark tenors.

The Bureau of the Treasury (BTr) sold four tranches of Treasury Bills (T-bills) over the month's course, with each tranche comprising PHP5-7bn of 91-day, PHP7bn of 182-day, and PHP10bn of 364-day securities. Demand for all tenors increased as the month progressed, and all auctions were fully awarded. Between the last auctions in this month and the previous month, yields for the 3- and 6-month securities fell 5-8 bps, while the yield of the 1-year security fell 14 bps. In the last auction of the month, the 91-, 182-, and 364-day securities were awarded at average yields of 0.969%, 1.323%, and 1.542%, respectively.

In the local economic space, December inflation came in at 3.5% year-on-year, above expectations of 3.2% and bringing full-year 2020 average inflation to 2.6%. Food inflation continued to spike, driven by supply constraints due to the effects of inclement weather and the African Swine Flu. The Philippine full-year GDP figure also disappointed, with fourth-quarter year-on-year growth at -8.3%, bringing the full-year 2020 growth figure to an all-time low of -9.5%. Weak demand and capital formation were the main causes of the decline, as pandemic-related mobility constraints impeded spending and lowered demand expectations, causing companies to cut capital expenditures. The negative growth and high inflation figures, together with doubts about local vaccine acquisition and distribution capability, impaired local risk sentiment, driving investors into safer assets and pushing risk asset prices lower. With its policy rate at record lows and with the possibility of transitorily higher inflation, the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) is expected to remain accommodative but maintain current policy. In statements made throughout the month, BSP Governor Benjamin Diokno continued to emphasize the bank's focus on supporting growth using the full range of policy tools at its disposal.

Fund Performance. The Fund returned 0.00% during the month, below its benchmark by 8 basis points.

Fund Strategy. The Fund favors the safety of Time Deposits. Expectations of monetary easing moving forward may depress short-term rates
