- Are at least classified as aggressive based on their risk profile
- Have an investment horizon of more than five (5) years

KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

You should not invest in this Fund if you do not understand or are not comfortable with the accompanying risks.

Interest Rate Risk: The fund invests in a portfolio of Philippine Sovereign and corporate securities comprising the JP Morgan Asia Credit Philippines Total Return Index, exposing investors to the risk of loss arising from a rise in interest rates, which generally causes fixed income security prices to decline. Factors/ events that may lead to a rise interest rates include adverse market conditions, issuer-specific factors/ events and/ or negative developments in domestic and global political and economic conditions.

Liquidity Risk: Investors are exposed to the risk of loss due to the fund's inability to convert security holdings to cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a highly disadvantageous price due to limited buyers/ sellers in the market, low trading volumes or market disruptions, among other reasons/ factors.

Related Party Risk: Investors are exposed to actual or potential conflicts of interest in the handling of related party transactions by the Trustee, specifically, the execution of trade transactions with related counterparties.

Credit/Default Risk: Investors are exposed to the risk of loss due to the failure of the borrower/ debt issuer to make timely interest and/ or principal payments on its deposit liabilities, loans, bonds or other debt instruments due to a deterioration in the borrower's/ issuer's financial condition or external factors and events that may affect its ability to repay financial obligations such as negative developments in domestic and global political and economic conditions.

Index Tracking Risk: Investors are exposed to the risk of not being able to achieve a level of return that matches the index being tracked by the fund due primarily to operating and fund management expenses.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. The JP Morgan Asia Credit Index (JACI) Philippines lost 1.54% in February as Philippine dollar-denominated bonds tracked movements in US Treasuries.

Global bonds surrendered gains made in January as various data released for the month reaffirmed the strength of the US economy. Both retail sales and jobs data surprised to the upside, while inflation came in higher than expected at 6.4% year-on-year. The European Central Bank, Bank of England and US Federal Reserve all hiked rates at the beginning of February, in line with expectations. However, statements following these policy actions were perceived to be more hawkish, as some policymakers highlighted that inflation remained too high, and further tightening would be needed. The 10-year US Treasury yield rose 41 basis points to close the month at the 3.92% level.

In the local economic space, inflation for the month of January spiked to 8.7% year-on-year, higher than the 8.1% posted in December. This marked the highest year-on-year change since 2008, as food and fuel prices continued to be affected by supply-side pressures. Consequently, the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) decided to raise benchmark rates by 50 basis points during their Monetary Policy meeting held February 16. BSP officials reiterated that they remained prepared to adjust policy settings as needed, given persistently high CPI levels, as well as central bank tightening measures globally.

Fund Performance. The fund returned -1.6% in February, underperforming its benchmark by 6 bps. Year to date, the fund returned 0.88%, below the benchmark by 40 bps

Fund Strategy. The Fund will continue to closely track the JPMorgan Asia Credit Total Return Index. Investors in a bond fund must be prepared to withstand volatility as higher investment value is typically achieved over the medium to long term.
