KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

You should not invest in this Fund if you do not understand or are not comfortable with the accompanying risks.

Interest Rate Risk: The fund invests in a portfolio of Philippine Sovereign and corporate securities comprising the JP Morgan Asia Credit Philippines Total Return Index, exposing investors to the risk of loss arising from a rise in interest rates, which generally causes fixed income security prices to decline. Factors/ events that may lead to a rise interest rates include adverse market conditions, issuer-specific factors/ events and/ or negative developments in domestic and global political and economic conditions.

Liquidity Risk: Investors are exposed to the risk of loss due to the fund's inability to convert security holdings to cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a highly disadvantageous price due to limited buyers/ sellers in the market, low trading volumes or market disruptions, among other reasons/ factors.

Related Party Risk: Investors are exposed to actual or potential conflicts of interest in the handling of related party transactions by the Trustee, specifically, the execution of trade transactions with related counterparties.

Credit/Default Risk: Investors are exposed to the risk of loss due to the failure of the borrower/ debt issuer to make timely interest and/ or principal payments on its deposit liabilities, loans, bonds or other debt instruments due to a deterioration in the borrower's/ issuer's financial condition or external factors and events that may affect its ability to repay financial obligations such as negative developments in domestic and global political and economic conditions.

Index Tracking Risk: Investors are exposed to the risk of not being able to achieve a level of return that matches the index being tracked by the fund due primarily to operating and fund management expenses.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. The JP Morgan Asia Credit Index (JACI) Philippines returned 1.50% in April as Philippine dollar-denominated bonds outperformed US Treasuries.

Global bond movements were mixed in April amid mostly strong economic data releases and a US headline inflation figure that showed price pressures easing further. The CPI of the world's largest economy printed at 5.0% YoY in March, lower than the market estimate and the previous month's 6.0% figure. Meanwhile, the labor market showed some signs of cooling as wage growth slowed to 4.2% year-on-year. Investors continued to closely monitor these indicators as they speculated on what the Federal Reserve's policy rate decisions would be come early May. On the other side of the world, the Chinese economy posted a positive surprise, growing 4.5% YoY. Growth was driven by an improvement in consumer spending as the country's reopening was well underway. For the month, the 10-year US Treasury yield slipped 5 basis points lower to close the month at 3.42%.

In the local economic space, inflation for the month of March settled at 7.6% year-on-year, lower than the 8.6% in February. The figure was lower than market expectations, and was brought about by receding supply-side pressures. BSP officials reiterated that they remained prepared to adjust policy settings as needed, adding that easing inflation would give them more flexibility moving forward.

Fund Performance. The fund returned 1.30% in April, underperforming its benchmark by 20 bps. Year to date, the fund returned 3.28%, below the benchmark by 114 bps.

Fund Strategy. The Fund will continue to closely track the JPMorgan Asia Credit Total Return Index. Investors in a bond fund must be prepared to withstand volatility as higher investment value is typically achieved over the medium to long term.
