KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

You should not invest in this Fund if you do not understand or are not comfortable with the accompanying risks.

Interest Rate Risk: The fund invests in a portfolio of Philippine Sovereign and corporate securities comprising the JP Morgan Asia Credit Philippines Total Return Index, exposing investors to the risk of loss arising from a rise in interest rates, which generally causes fixed income security prices to decline. Factors/ events that may lead to a rise interest rates include adverse market conditions, issuer-specific factors/ events and/ or negative developments in domestic and global political and economic conditions.

Liquidity Risk: Investors are exposed to the risk of loss due to the fund's inability to convert security holdings to cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a highly disadvantageous price due to limited buyers/ sellers in the market, low trading volumes or market disruptions, among other reasons/ factors.

Related Party Risk: Investors are exposed to actual or potential conflicts of interest in the handling of related party transactions by the Trustee, specifically, the execution of trade transactions with related counterparties.

Credit/Default Risk: Investors are exposed to the risk of loss due to the failure of the borrower/ debt issuer to make timely interest and/ or principal payments on its deposit liabilities, loans, bonds or other debt instruments due to a deterioration in the borrower's/ issuer's financial condition or external factors and events that may affect its ability to repay financial obligations such as negative developments in domestic and global political and economic conditions.

Index Tracking Risk: Investors are exposed to the risk of not being able to achieve a level of return that matches the index being tracked by the fund due primarily to operating and fund management expenses.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. The JP Morgan Asia Credit Index (JACI) Philippines declined by 1.17% in May as Philippine dollar-denominated bonds tracked US Treasuries.

Global bond movements were mixed in May amid mostly strong economic data releases and a US headline inflation figure that showed price pressures easing further. US CPI printed at 4.9% YoY in April, lower than the market estimate and the previous month's 5.0% figure. However, volatility in the fixed income space persisted after former Fed Chair Janet Yellen warned that the government would run out of money to pay its obligations by as early as June 1. US officials convened over the course of the month with hopes to come to an agreement with regard to the impending debt ceiling crisis. For the period, the 10-year US Treasury yield rose by 22 basis points lower to close the month at 3.64%.

In the local economic space, inflation for the month of April settled at 6.6% year-on-year, lower than the 7.6% in March. The figure was once again lower than market expectations, and was brought about by receding supply-side pressures. Consequently, the BSP refrained from hiking interest rates during its Monetary Board meeting mid-month, citing the improvement in local prices. Nevertheless, policy officials reiterated that they remained prepared to adjust policy settings as needed, and added that easing inflation would give them more flexibility moving forward.

Fund Performance. The fund returned -0.88% in May, outperforming its benchmark by 29 bps. Year to date, the fund returned 2.37%, below the benchmark by 83 bps.

Fund Strategy. The Fund will continue to closely track the JPMorgan Asia Credit Total Return Index. Investors in a bond fund must be prepared to withstand volatility as higher investment value is typically achieved over the medium to long term.
