OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. Global equity markets modestly declined in May. Markets remained volatile throughout the month amid the US debt ceiling talks, raising concerns of a potential default. Despite the impasse on the US debt ceiling decision, the US Federal Reserve raised its interest rates by 25 basis points, pushing its policy rate above 5% for the first time since 2007, as inflation remained persistently elevated. The US Consumer Price Index marginally declined to 4.9% year-on-year in April from 5% in March, driven by lower energy prices. Across regional markets, returns were mixed as emerging market equities underperformed the broader equity indices due to Chinese equities selling off amid weaker economic data and slower business activity. On the positive side, Japanese equities rallied during the month driven by supportive monetary policy and bullish momentum on the economy.

The MSCI ACWI Information Technology Index rose by 8.1%, driven by investor optimism on artificial intelligence (AI).

Fund Performance. The fund returned 10.73% in May, above the benchmark by 259 basis points. Stock selection helped performance.

Fund Strategy. For 2023, uncertainty remains amid a potential economic slowdown. Recent advancements in artificial intelligence have brought new momentum into the sector. While the initial beneficiaries were the mega-cap technology names building the infrastructure to train AI models, we see wide opportunities in the space aligned with the theme moving forward. While growth assets have been penalized due to rising rate concerns, the companies within the portfolio continue to be underpinned by compelling fundamentals and powerful long-term secular growth drivers. The secular growth trends driving technology are multi-year transformations that are expected to persist, regardless of the macroeconomic environment or geopolitical risk. The fund will continue to focus on these long-term secular themes such as artificial intelligence, cloud computing, electric vehicles, metaverse and quantum computing.
