OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. Global equity markets returned positive in January, supported by positive economic data, strong 4Q23 earnings reports and sustained AI optimism. The US Federal Reserve kept rates steady and reinforced their message of needing more sustained evidence of slowing inflation before any policy pivot is considered. January continued to reflect supportive US economic data. Jobs report for the month showed 353,000 jobs added, above estimates of 185,000. Unemployment rate held steady at 3.7%, reflecting a still robust labor market. US inflation continued to trend lower for the month with the January CPI posting at 3.1%, following the slight increase in December at 3.4%. In terms of business activity, the US economy remained within the expansionary territory, with its composite PMI accelerating from 50.9 to 52.0 month-on-month, driven by the expansion in the manufacturing sector. Despite the pull back in the rate cut expectations, with the markets pricing in the first cut in May instead of March at the start of the year, sentiment continues to be supported by strong economic data, better-than-expected 4Q corporate earnings and developments within the Artificial Intelligence (AI) space. MSCI All Country World returned 0.61% for the month, with developed outperforming emerging markets. The MSCI ACWI Information Technology Index returned +3.2% for the month, led by the semiconductor sub-sector.

Fund Performance. The fund returned 4.44% in January, outperforming the benchmark by 125 basis points. Security selection within technology hardware helped performance.

Fund Strategy. Mixed macroeconomic indicators continue in 2024, leading enterprises to remain conservative with IT spending. We believe that concerns about interest rates and inflation have largely been priced into tech equities. Recent advancements in artificial intelligence have brought new momentum into the sector, offsetting some of the impact from macro weakness. While the initial beneficiaries were the mega-cap technology names building the infrastructure to train AI models, we see wide opportunities in the space aligned with the theme moving forward. While growth assets have been penalized due to rising rate concerns, the companies within the portfolio continue to be underpinned by compelling fundamentals and powerful long-term secular growth drivers. The secular growth trends driving technology are multi-year transformations that are expected to persist, regardless of the macroeconomic environment or geopolitical risk. The fund will continue to focus on these long-term secular themes such as artificial intelligence, cloud computing, electric vehicles, metaverse, space and quantum computing.
