Country Risk: Investors are exposed to the risk of loss arising from negative developments in the political, economic and social conditions of the focus countries of the underlying securities of the target fund, which may adversely affect the value of the feeder fund.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. Global equities declined on October, with the MSCI All Country World Index posting a -2.2% return. In the US, the S&P 500 posted a modest decline of 0.9%, influenced by the uncertainty surrounding the upcoming national elections and mixed expectations on the path of policy rates. Inflation saw a slight improvement as the Consumer Price Index (CPI) eased to 2.4% in September from 2.5% in August, fueling hopes for a 25-basis point rate cut in November. US GDP grew at an annualized rate of 2.8% year-on-year in Q3, slightly down from 3.0% year-on-year growth in the 2nd quarter. Labor markets continued to be robust as non-farm payrolls saw a strong increase with 254,000 jobs added in September compared to 154,000 in August while unemployment declined from 4.2% to 4.1% month-on-month. In Europe, the MSCI Europe Index decreased by 3.2%. The European Central Bank (ECB) cut interest rates by 25 basis points in October, its third quarter-point cut for the year. 3Q GDP slightly improved by 0.4% quarter-on-quarter, however, inflation rose to 2.0% in October from 1.7% in September. This supported the view of ECB President Christine Lagarde that rate cuts should continue to be gradual moving forward. In Japan, equity markets were positive and the TOPIX rose by 1.9% as the country's expansionary policy plans and weaker yen boosted returns. Emerging markets faced headwinds from a stronger US dollar and weaker corporate earnings for the third quarter and the MSCI Emerging Market Index fell by 4.3% for the month. The MSCI ACWI Information Technology 10/40 Index returned -1.4% for the month. Returns were hampered by weak performance among the hardware and services sub-sectors.

Fund Performance. The fund returned -0.13% in October, outperforming the benchmark by 129 basis points. Security selection within the target fund helped performance.

Fund Strategy. We believe the fundamentals of the technology companies we invest in are strong. Weakness in the technology sector this summer was driven by weaker-than-expected US economic data, drastic currency movements, and a debate around the ROI of AI-related spending. This heightened volatility is typical for the sector when compared to history and creates a constructive backdrop for active stock picking. We still believe that we are in the early stages of the AI era, which will drive exponential growth and value creation in the tech sector and beyond. AI is the next frontier of innovation and is one of the biggest singular technology trends that the global economy has seen. The opportunity it presents to investors is significant and will continue to a dynamic we've seen over the past three decades: the technology sector's superior growth to all other sectors as it has disrupted existing industries and created new markets. While the initial beneficiaries of the AI theme have been mega-cap tech names building the physical infrastructure required to train generative AI models, we see a variety of opportunities in companies aligned with the theme going forward. We maintain our exposure to long-term secular themes within the portfolio, such as artificial intelligence, cloud computing, and electric vehicles, as well as more nascent themes such as metaverse, space, and quantum computing.
