KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

You should not invest in this Fund if you do not understand or are not comfortable with the accompanying risks.

Market/Price Risk:	Investors are exposed to adverse changes in the prices of foreign currency denominated fixed income instruments of the target funds due to a rise in interest rates as a result of adverse market conditions, unfavorable developments in the political and economic conditions of countries where the underlying securities of the target funds are issued or traded, or other issuer-specific factors.
Liquidity Risk:	Investors are exposed to the risk of loss due to the inability of the target funds to convert security holdings to cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a highly disadvantageous price due to limited participants in the market, low trading volumes, market disruptions, among others.
Interest Rate Risk:	Investors are exposed to adverse changes in the prices of fixed income securities of the target funds due to a rise in interest rates, which generally causes fixed income security prices to decline. Factors/ events that may lead to a rise in interest rates include adverse market conditions, issuer-specific factors/events and/or negative developments in political and economic conditions.
Credit/ Default Risk:	Investors are exposed to the risk of loss due to the failure of the borrower/debt issuer to make timely interest and/or principal payments on its deposit liabilities, loans, bonds or other debt instruments due to a deterioration in the borrower's/issuer's financial condition or external factors and events that may affect its ability to repay financial obligations such as negative developments in political and economic conditions.
FX Risk:	Investors are exposed to the risk of loss from a decline in the market value of the target fund when the underlying securities of the target funds are translated to USD.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. Global fixed income markets saw mixed performances in October, with the Bloomberg Barclays Global Aggregate Total Return Index down by 0.25%. This came amid easing trade tensions between the US and China and shifting monetary policy expectations.

In the US, softer inflation allowed the Federal Reserve to cut rates by 25 basis points during its October meeting. However, Fed Chair Jerome Powell signaled that further cuts are not guaranteed, leading markets to anticipate a possible pause in the easing cycle. US Treasury yields declined across the curve, with the 2-year at 3.58%, the 10-year at 4.10%, and the 30-year at 4.67%.

Globally, long-term government bond yields also fell. The 10-year German Bund dropped to 2.65%, while the UK 10-year Gilt fell 28 basis points to 4.41%, following dovish comments from the Bank of England amid softer inflation and slower growth. Euro-area government bonds also saw declines, with Italian and Spanish 10-year yields down 18 and 11 basis points, respectively. Emerging market debt outperformed, returning 2.2%, supported by higher real yields and a weaker US dollar.

Meanwhile, Japanese government bonds underperformed, with 10-year yields rising slightly as markets anticipate further policy normalization from the Bank of Japan and potential fiscal expansion under new leadership.

Global equities posted a solid month, with the MSCI All Country World (ACWI) Total Return Index (in USD) rising by 2.11% in October, driven by investor optimism around rate cuts, strong corporate earnings, and sustained AI enthusiasm. The U.S. Federal Reserve cut interest rates by 25 basis points to a target range of 3.75–4.00%, which gave risk assets a boost. This cut marked the second consecutive reduction, as the Fed responded to signs of slowing in the labor market and weaker economic momentum. The Fed also announced the end of its quantitative tightening from December where they will stop shrinking the balance sheet.

European markets advanced moderately. Inflation in the eurozone eased to around 2.1% in October, down 2.2% in September. STOXX All Europe Index rose, helped by gains in autos and luxury goods amid signs of recovering Chinese demand.

Japan's Nikkei 225 jumped 16%, its strongest month-on-month performance in decades. The rally was underpinned by the election of Sanae Takaichi as leader of the ruling party raising expectations of more expansionary fiscal and monetary policy.

The MSCI ex-Japan Index rose 4.5% in October. Korea and Taiwan benefited from the trade talks with the U.S. Their semiconductor space saw rallies for the month with AI enthusiasm. Signs of easing trade tension between the U.S. and China further supported emerging Asian markets.

Fund Performance. The fund returned 1.52%, outperforming the benchmark by 53 basis points. Security selection within the fund helped performance.

Fund Strategy. We expect major structural trends in sustainability, such as increasing market share of electric vehicles and record installation of wind turbines and solar panels, to continue. The ongoing Russia-Ukraine war has resulted in the world, particularly Europe, determined to reduce their reliance on traditional sources of energy such as oil in gas, requiring large investments in renewable energy in the coming years. In addition, we continue to see support for green technologies through government policies across the globe. We believe that strong ESG companies are likely to generate positive financial performance over time as investing in sustainability can deliver higher growth and returns through innovation, higher operational efficiency and better risk management.
