KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

You should not invest in this Fund if you do not understand or are not comfortable with the accompanying risks.

Interest Rate Risk: The fund invests in a long-term portfolio of domestic government and corporate securities, exposing investors to the risk of loss arising from a rise in interest rates, which generally causes fixed income security prices to decline. Factors/ events that may lead to a rise interest rates include adverse market conditions, issuer-specific factors/ events and/ or negative developments in domestic political and economic conditions.

Liquidity Risk: Investors are exposed to the risk of loss due to the fund's inability to convert security holdings to cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a highly disadvantageous price due to limited buyers/ sellers in the market, low trading volumes or market disruptions, among other reasons/ factors.

Credit/ Default Risk: Investors are exposed to the risk of loss due to the failure of the borrower/ debt issuer to make timely interest and/ or principal payments on its deposit liabilities, loans, bonds or other debt instruments due to a deterioration in the borrower's/ issuer's financial condition or external factors and events that may affect its ability to repay financial obligations such as negative developments in domestic political and economic conditions.

Related Party Risk: Investors are exposed to actual or potential conflicts of interest in the handling of related party transactions by the Trustee, specifically, time deposit placements with the Trustee's own bank and/ or its subsidiary, purchase of debt securities issued by related parties, as well as the execution of trade transactions with related counterparties.

In accordance with the provisions in the Declaration of Trust, the Fund employs a risk management policy based on duration. The Fund may also use financial derivatives to hedge the portfolio against market and credit risks.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. In June, the Philippine bond market saw significant ups and downs. This was mainly because of a brief conflict between Israel and Iran, which caused oil prices to jump and raised concerns about inflation. The 10-year Philippine bond yield rose by as much as 16 basis points before ending the month two basis points higher. As such, the BPI Philippine Government Bond Index returned 0.28%, bringing the first half of 2025 return to 2.47%. Meanwhile, the BPI Philippine Government Bond 1-5 Year Index returned 0.35%, with first half 2025 return at 3.04%.

Aside from the Israel-Iran war, investors also weighed local and global macroeconomic developments. Philippine inflation further fell to 1.3% in May, from 1.4% in April. In addition, the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas cut the policy rate by 25 basis points to 5.25%. In the US, the Federal Reserve kept rates steady at 4.25%-4.50%, as policymakers await more data to better assess the impact of US import tariffs on the economy.

Looking ahead, we expect market volatility to continue due to global uncertainties, especially around US trade policies and geopolitical tensions. However, the local environment remains favorable for bond investments, thanks to low inflation, slower economic growth, dovish central bank, and fewer government bond auctions. Towards the end of June, the Bureau of the Treasury released its auction schedule for the third quarter, which showed an 11% decline in offering volume versus the initial schedule in the second quarter.

Fund Performance. The Fund posted a return of 0.17% for the month of June, below the benchmark by 11 basis points.

Fund Strategy. The Fund aims to maintain its duration position as interest rates are expected to decline in the medium term. Inflation has significantly eased, mainly driven by a gradual reduction in rice prices. In response, the BSP has continued to reduce its policy rate, which now stands at 5.25%. The central bank has also indicated the possibility of further rate cuts, supported by a favorable macroeconomic backdrop. However, market volatility may persist due to ongoing uncertainties in the global economic landscape, particularly due to the rapidly evolving US trade policies. Investors in a bond fund must be prepared to withstand volatility as higher investment value is typically achieved over the medium to long term.
