KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

Market/Price Risk: Investors are exposed to adverse changes in the prices of large cap stocks in the Eurozone, which may be brought about by adverse market conditions, unfavorable company earnings and valuations, and negative developments in the political and economic conditions of countries where investee companies are domiciled.

Liquidity Risk: Investors are exposed to the risk of loss due to the target fund's inability to convert security holdings to cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a highly disadvantageous price due to limited participants in the market, low trading volumes, market disruptions, among others.

Country Risk: Investors are exposed to the risk of loss arising from negative developments in the political, economic and social conditions of countries, primarily in Europe, which may adversely affect the value of the feeder fund.

FX Risk: Investors are exposed to the risk of loss from a decline in the market value of the target fund when the market value of EUR denominated equity securities held by the target fund are translated to USD.

The Fund's investment outlets undergo proper screening and evaluation in accordance with the Trustee's accreditation process. The Fund may also use financial derivatives to hedge the portfolio against market and credit risks.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. European equities rose in November. The European Commission upgraded its 2025 eurozone economic growth forecast to 1.3%, from 0.9%, as growth exceeded expectations in the first nine months of the year. The upgrade was supported by a resilient labor market, declining inflation, and favorable financing conditions. Eurozone business activity continued to expand at a solid pace in November; the HCOB Flash Eurozone Composite PMI remained near its highest level for two-and-a-half years, at 52.4, as a healthy services sector offset weak manufacturing. Against a relatively positive economic backdrop, the central banks of the UK, Norway, and Sweden left interest rates unchanged.

Annual eurozone headline inflation rose slightly to 2.2% in November, while core inflation remained steady at 2.4%. According to LSEG, third-quarter earnings for companies in the STOXX 600 Index are forecast to increase 7.1% from a year earlier.

The MSCI Europe Index Net returned 0.9% for the month. Within the index, eight out of 11 sectors rose for the period. Health care and financials were the top performing sectors, while information technology and industrials were the bottom performing sectors over the period.

Fund Performance. The fund returned 1.65% in November, outperforming the benchmark by 90 basis points.

Fund Strategy. We are monitoring broader inflation trends, longer-term yields, recession risk, the situation in Ukraine and the Middle East and the evolving European regulatory framework. We continue to assess companies for their long-term fundamental attractiveness based on existing investment criteria and incorporate the implications of potential challenges amidst geopolitical and macroeconomic risks. Our preferred sectors are industrials, and our preferred regions are the United Kingdom and Ireland.
