OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. Philippine government bond prices increased in August as yields moved lower amid supportive local economic data. Philippine inflation in July came in below expectations at 6.2%, compared to consensus forecasts of 6.4%. At the same time, second quarter economic growth slowed to 2.3%, significantly weaker than the market expectation of 2.9%. Despite easing inflation and softer economic activity, the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) proceeded with its widely anticipated 25 basis point policy rate hike, bringing the policy rate to 5.00%. Nevertheless, the combination of moderating inflation and weaker-than-expected growth helped alleviate concerns of further aggressive monetary tightening, supporting demand for local fixed income securities. Against this backdrop, local bond yields fell by an average of 19 basis points during the month, with the 5-year benchmark government bond yield declining from 7.33% to 7.07%. Investor sentiment remained cautious, however, as foreign investors recorded net outflows of Php32 billion in August, bringing cumulative year-to-date outflows to Php307 billion. Meanwhile, the Bureau of the Treasury raised Php125 billion through its regular bond auctions, slightly exceeding its Php120 billion target. Auction demand was aided by the decline in market yields and improving expectations that monetary policy may be approaching a turning point as inflation continues to moderate and economic growth softens.

The Philippine Stock Exchange Index (PSEi) experienced a volatile month, declining 4.5% month-on-month and fully reversing the gains recorded in July amidst a challenging macroeconomic backdrop. Investor sentiment was weighed down by a confluence of factors, including heightened geopolitical tensions in the Middle East, slowing domestic economic growth, elevated inflation, tighter monetary policy, and continued weakness in the Philippine Peso. Domestic economic data remained soft, with 2Q GDP growth slowing to 2.3% year-on-year, while inflation accelerated, albeit at a slower pace, to 6.2%. The Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) further tightened monetary policy by raising its policy rate by 25 basis points. Meanwhile, the peso weakened beyond the PHP62-per-US dollar level, adding to concerns over external vulnerabilities and imported inflation pressures. Market sentiment was further affected by the MSCI quarterly index rebalancing, which saw Ayala Land, Inc. (ALI) removed from the MSCI Standard Index. As a result, the PSEi ended the month below the key psychological support level of 6,000, closing at 5,956.33. Trading activity improved during the period, supported by rebalancing-related flows. Average daily value turnover increased 9.3% month-on-month to Php5.95 billion. Foreign investors, however, turned net sellers, recording net outflows of US$223 million, the largest monthly foreign selling activity since March. On a stock-specific basis, top gainers for the month include: DMC (+6.02%), AEV (+4.51%), LTG (+3.83%). Meanwhile top laggards are as follows : SCC (-15.89%), CNVRG: (-15.58%), and GLO (-9.94%).

Fund Performance. The fund returned 0.31% in August, below the benchmark by 8 basis points. Year-to-date, the Fund registered a gain of 1.70%, below the benchmark by 39 basis points.

Fund Strategy. The Fund will remain defensive given the local and global macroeconomic headwinds. The Fund's preference is for companies with leading market capitalization, clear earnings growth drivers, dividend-paying and high-yielding. For the fixed income portion of the fund, the Fund looks to maintain a nimble portfolio position to take advantage of any opportunities as interest rates are expected to trend higher over the coming months. Local inflation has exceeded the BSP's target since March and may remain elevated due to higher oil prices and their indirect impact on other goods and services. This environment may prompt further policy rate hikes from the BSP.

Market volatility may persist in the near term, driven largely by global developments, and the Fund will be actively managed to navigate these conditions. Investors should note that bond funds may experience short-term price fluctuations, and returns are generally realized over a medium- to long-term investment horizon.
