OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. Philippine government bond prices increased in August as yields moved lower amid supportive local economic data. Philippine inflation in July came in below expectations at 6.2%, compared to consensus forecasts of 6.4%. At the same time, second quarter economic growth slowed to 2.3%, significantly weaker than the market expectation of 2.9%. Despite easing inflation and softer economic activity, the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) proceeded with its widely anticipated 25 basis point policy rate hike, bringing the policy rate to 5.00%. Nevertheless, the combination of moderating inflation and weaker-than-expected growth helped alleviate concerns of further aggressive monetary tightening, supporting demand for local fixed income securities.

Against this backdrop, local bond yields fell by an average of 19 basis points during the month, with the 5-year benchmark government bond yield declining from 7.33% to 7.07%. Investor sentiment remained cautious, however, as foreign investors recorded net outflows of Php32 billion in August, bringing cumulative year-to-date outflows to Php307 billion.

Meanwhile, the Bureau of the Treasury raised Php125 billion through its regular bond auctions, slightly exceeding its Php120 billion target. Auction demand was aided by the decline in market yields and improving expectations that monetary policy may be approaching a turning point as inflation continues to moderate and economic growth softens.

Fund Performance. The Fund returned 2.10% during the month of August, outperforming its benchmark by 79 basis points.

Fund Strategy. The Fund remains positioned to navigate changing market conditions and capture opportunities in the domestic fixed-income market. In August, moderating inflation and softer-than-expected economic growth supported demand for local government securities and helped temper concerns of further aggressive monetary tightening. Consequently, yields from the 2-year to 20-year tenors declined by an average of 28 bps during the month, resulting in higher bond prices.

Domestic and global uncertainties are expected to continue influencing the interest rate environment, particularly amid persistent inflation risks and continued monetary policy tightening. The Fund will remain actively managed, with portfolio positioning adjusted as market conditions evolve and investment opportunities arise. Investors should note that bond funds may experience short-term price volatility, with returns generally realized over a medium- to long-term investment horizon.
