OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. Philippine government bond yields declined by an average of 13 basis points in February, led by bonds with maturities of less than one year, which fell by around 25 basis points. The rally in bonds was largely driven by the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas' (BSP) decision to cut its policy rate from 4.50% to 4.25%, citing softer-than-expected economic growth.

Investor sentiment was further supported by news reports on the potential inclusion of Philippine government bonds in the J.P. Morgan Government Bond Index – Emerging Markets (GBI-EM). National Treasurer Sharon Almanza indicated that an announcement on the country's possible inclusion could be forthcoming. Such inclusion may increase foreign investor participation in the local bond market, potentially boosting demand for government securities and exerting downward pressure on yields.

During the month, the Bureau of the Treasury (BTr) issued a new 10-year benchmark bond (FXTN 10-74), raising a total of Php298 billion, including Php63 billion from bond exchange transactions. The auction attracted strong demand, with total tenders reaching Php328.5 billion, significantly exceeding the initial offer of Php30 billion. The bond was awarded at a coupon rate of 5.925%, which was below prevailing secondary market yields for comparable tenors. The strong auction outcome reinforced positive sentiment in the local fixed income market during the period.

Fund Performance. The Fund returned 0.67% during the month of February, outperforming its benchmark by 11 basis points.

Fund Strategy. The Fund looks to maintain a nimble portfolio position to take advantage of any opportunities as interest rates are seen to increase over the next few months. Local inflation is seen to be affected by ongoing geopolitical tensions in the Middle East and may breach the BSP's targeted range near-term. This may prompt the BSP to end its cutting cycle earlier than anticipated. Volatility may persist in the near term driven by global factors, and the portfolio will be actively managed to take advantage of this. Investors in a bond fund must be prepared to withstand volatility as higher returns are typically achieved over the medium to long term.
