⁴BENCHMARK INFORMATION

Name: JPMorgan Asia Credit Philippines Total Return Index

Description and Key Characteristics: The J.P. Morgan Asia Credit Index (JACI) launched on December 31, 1999, providing investors with a product that would aid in the evaluation and observation of investment opportunities in fixed rate US dollar-denominated bonds issued by Asia sovereigns, quasi-sovereigns, banks, and corporates. The main purpose of the index is to track the total return performance of a liquid and diverse universe of debt securities considered to be a fair representation of the asset class. The existing JACI contains majority of all fixed- rate bonds issued by Asia-domiciled entities having a nominal outstanding of at least $300 million and more than one year to maturity. The JPMorgan Asia Credit Index – Philippines Total Return is a sub-index of JACI.

Relation to the Fund's Objective or Investment Strategy: The Fund is passively managed, giving the Trustee limited discretion on security selection. The Fund aims to mimic the over-all return of the index as closely as possible. The JPMorgan Asia Credit Philippines Total Return Index is a good representation of the broad local bond market and will be used as reference during portfolio construction. This will help ensure compliance with the Fund's objective and investor profile.

Information about the benchmark may be accessed through the JP Morgan website through J.P. Morgan <https://www.jpmorgan.com/>. Alternatively, participants may request information from BPI Wealth at bpiwealth@bpi.com.ph.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. Global backdrop: US Treasuries gained for the month of February. January inflation that was released mid-February showed signs of cooling at 2.4% YoY. Core inflation at 2.4% was the lowest since March 2021. Coupled with geopolitical and AI revaluation risks, these were the tailwinds to the gain in US Treasuries. The 10-year ended the month at below 4%.

The JP Morgan Asia Credit Index (JACI) Philippines also provided positive returns as yields followed the move in US Treasuries. Effectively, price appreciation drove returns more than accruals for the month.

The Bloomberg Aggregate Bond Index overall returned positively. Returns were not only driven by drop in sovereign yields but also a flight to safety were investors preferred exposures to quality investment grade credit and non-AI related debt like utilities and financials.

Fund Performance. The fund returned 0.79% in February, underperforming the benchmark by 16 basis points.

Fund Strategy. The Fund will continue to closely track the JPMorgan Asia Credit Total Return Index. Investors in a bond fund must be prepared to withstand volatility as higher investment value is typically achieved over the medium to long term.
