Liquidity Risk: Investors are exposed to the risk of loss due to the fund's inability to convert security holdings to cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a highly disadvantageous price due to limited buyers/ sellers in the market, low trading volumes or market disruptions, among other reasons/factors.

Related Party Risk: Investors are exposed to actual or potential conflicts of interest in the handling of related party transactions by the Trustee, specifically, time deposit placements with the Trustee's own bank and/ or its subsidiary, purchase of debt securities issued by related parties, as well as the execution of trade transactions with related counterparties.

Credit/Default Risk: Investors are exposed to the risk of loss due to the failure of the borrower/ debt issuer to make timely interest and/ or principal payments on its deposit liabilities, loans, bonds or other debt instruments due to a deterioration in the borrower's/ issuer's financial condition or external factors and events that may affect its ability to repay financial obligations such as negative developments in domestic and global political and economic conditions.

Name: JPMorgan Asia Credit Index – Philippines Total Return

Description and Key Characteristics: The J.P. Morgan Asia Credit Index (JACI) launched on December 31, 1999, providing investors with a product that would aid in the evaluation and observation of investment opportunities in fixed rate US dollar-denominated bonds issued by Asia sovereigns, quasi-sovereigns, banks, and corporates. The main purpose of the index is to track the total return performance of a liquid and divers universe of debt securities considered to be a fair representation of the asset class. The JPMorgan Asia Credit Index – Philippines Total Return is a sub-index of JACI.

Relation to the Fund's Objective or Investment Strategy: The Fund is actively managed, which allows the Trustee full discretion on security selection. The Trustee will use the JPMorgan Asia Credit Index –Philippines Total Return as reference during portfolio construction to ensure that the active risk taken is commensurate to the Fund's objective and investor profile. ## OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. Global markets transitioned from the prior month's tension to a more balanced risk environment. Brent prices eased from their earlier highs as diplomacy progressed, and supply fears moderated, supporting a softer energy impulse to inflation. In the same vein, softer mid-month inflation data reinforced a relief rally in fixed income, while policy authorities signaled continued caution: the Fed and major central banks projected restrictive settings for longer, with rate cuts penciled in for 2027 by several committees and market players. Against this backdrop, global government bonds posted firmer performance compared with the prior month as yields retraced from late-March highs, with short-end rates leading the pullback. The net effect was a month of orderly gains for the broad bond complex, underpinned by an improved inflation outlook, a cautious but supportive policy stance, and a stabilization in energy markets that helped temper macro risks.

Corporate credit, particularly within USD-denominated segments, benefited from improved risk sentiment and tighter spreads, while Asian USD credit and Philippine sovereign USD bonds tracked the global risk-on impulse but remained sensitive to oil price dynamics and domestic growth trajectories with the the JP Morgan Asia Credit Index (JACI) Philippines returning 1.04% for the month of April and the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Bond Index reversed its losses from March sharply and returned 1.25% in April.

Fund Performance. The Fund returned 0.85% for the month, underperforming its benchmark by 19 basis points.

Fund Strategy. The Fund looks to maintain a nimble portfolio position to take advantage of any opportunities as global inflation is seen to increase over the next few months as an effect of the ongoing geopolitical tensions in the Middle East. Volatility may persist in the near term driven by global factors, and the portfolio will be actively managed to take advantage of this. Investors in the bond fund must be prepared to withstand volatility as higher investment value is normally achieved over the medium to long term horizon.
